LOUISIANA

School to Life

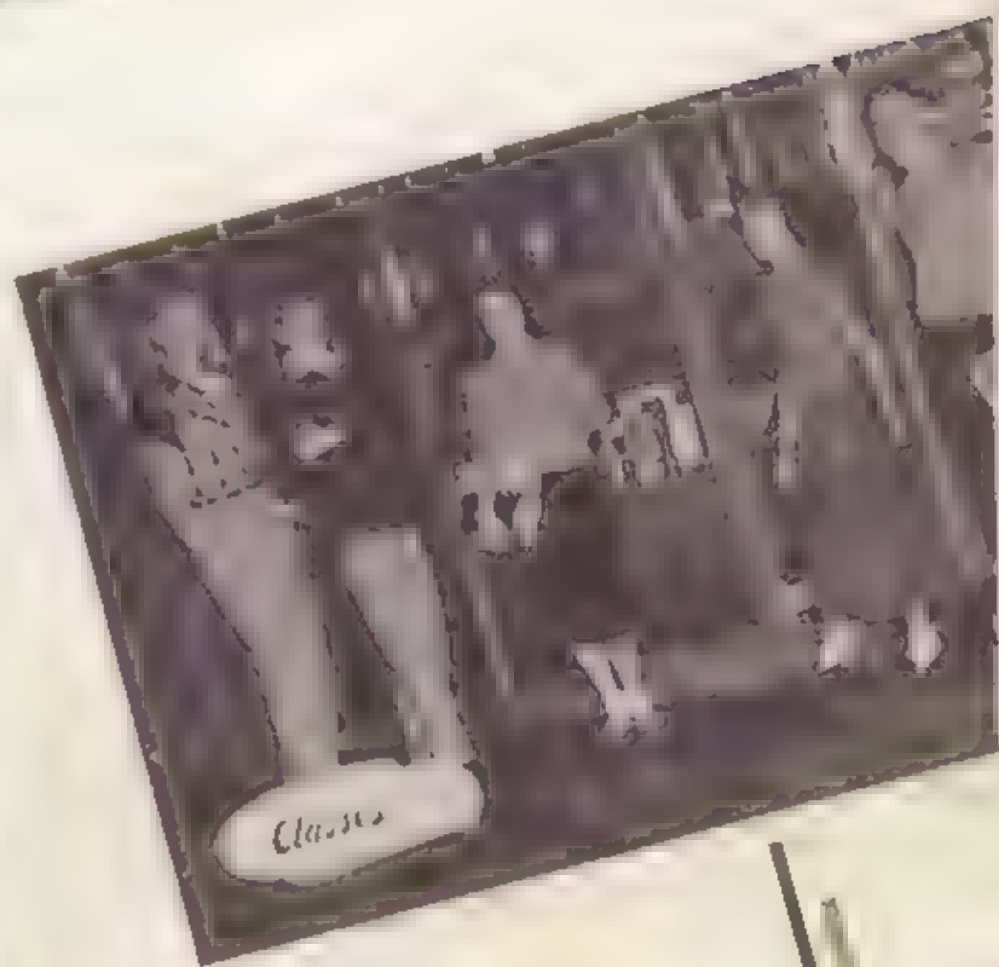

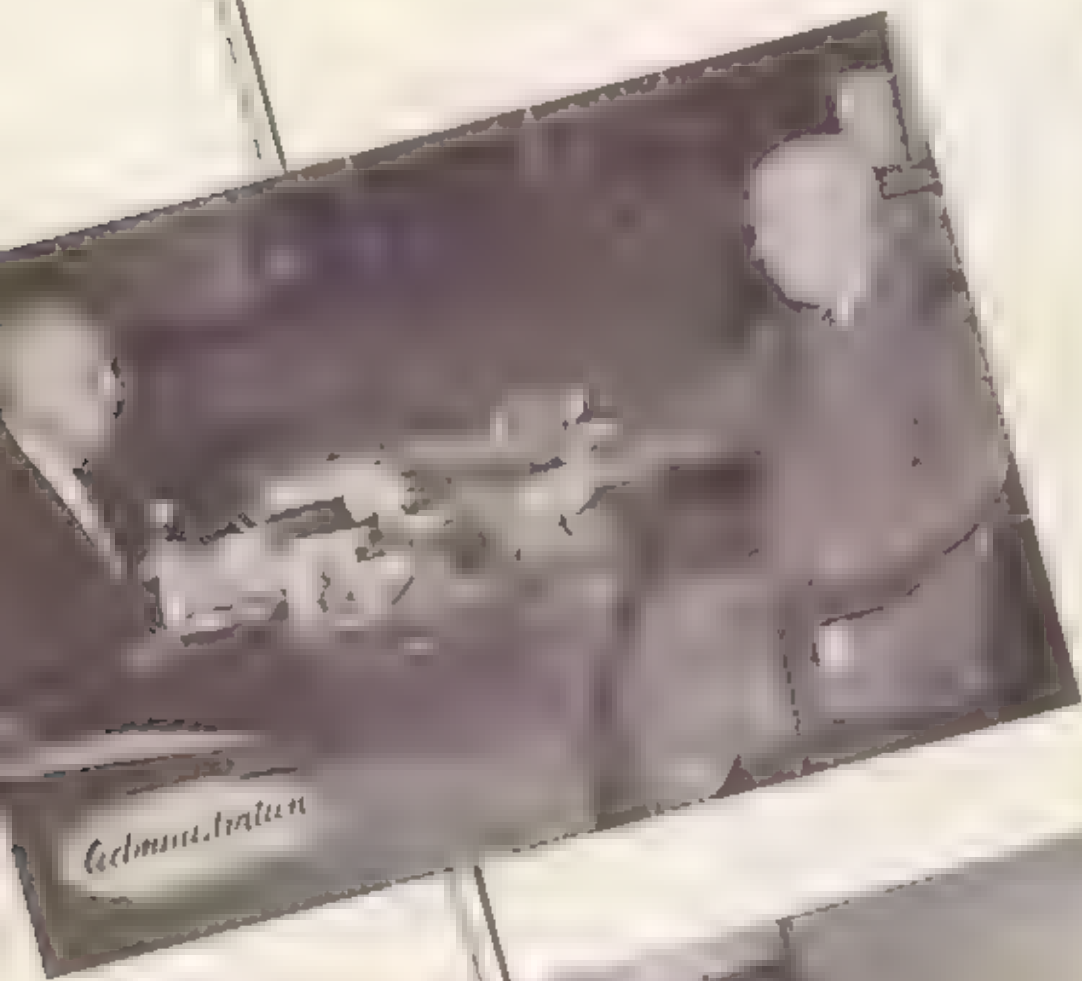

An aerial photograph of a city, likely Shreveport, showing a dense grid of buildings and streets. The image is in a dark, monochromatic color scheme. A white rectangular box with a black border is tilted and placed over the lower-left portion of the image, containing a dedication text.

We, the staff of the 1949 Gusher, realizing the debt we owe to our community, dedicate this book to the City of Shreveport. We have stressed the interrelationship of the school and community throughout the pages of this book with the hope that it will live throughout the pages of our lives. It is to you, Shreveport, we now turn, thanking you for the educational opportunities you have given us, and promising in return to be good citizens of our city.

ADMINISTRATION

Isaac C. Koffman

M. A., and LL. E.

Principal

Our principal has endeared himself to the students of Byrd High School through his tireless efforts in our behalf and his sympathetic understanding of our problems. He has done much to give us a firm foundation in the fundamentals of education and to link the "City of Byrd" with the community in which we live. For our privilege and opportunities we are deeply grateful.

Myra Parkes reigned as Queen of the homecoming festivities on October 29. Graduates of former years were honored at assembly in the morning and at the game with Haynesville that night. Before the game the queen and her court were presented to the people and the queen was crowned by Mayor Clyde Fant. Senior football players led the procession on the field and the members of the court were escorted by other senior players. The Queen, Myra Parkes, entered on the arm of football captain Paul Winder. Other members of the court and their escorts were Mary Frances Collins, Maid of Honor, and Billy Harrington; Wanda Munsell, Football Sweetheart, and Bobby Cunningham; Edna Marie Whitmeyer and Wray Studstill; Betty Ann Hill and Frank Pernici; Mathe Lou Shaffer and John Trigg; Sue Wolfe and Roy Dean Owen.

A CAPPELLA CHOIR

Under the capable direction of Mr. Trickett our vocal music department has played an important part in the school life. Performances at the Auditorium and at civic clubs are but two of the many activities in which the A Cappella Choir has participated. At the recent concert given by our group which was one in a series of similar events, the A Cappella Choir was the featured attraction. The interest of students in the department was very high. The concert with the band was the big event of the year.

Remaining the only undefeated and untied team in Shreveport's Prep School race, the Byrds smothered the Bossier Bearcats to give them their fifth straight victory of the season. Dan Barr started things rolling with a 70-yard touchdown run on a pass interference. Murray scored twice for Byrd on a pass and a blocked kick, while Childers added another. Worley's magic toe converted all four times for the Purple and Gold. The entire Jacket eleven, operating from the T formation, played outstanding ball.

Byrd 14—Fair Park 0

Running roughshod over the Fair Park Indians in the annual Thanksgiving game, the Byrd football team secured a decisive victory. The game was played on a rainy day, but the Byrd players were not deterred. They dominated the game from the start, with Byrd's offense keeping the Fair Park defense in a constant state of confusion. The game was a display of teamwork and skill, with Byrd's players executing plays flawlessly. The final score was 14-0, a testament to the Byrd team's prowess. The game was a highlight of the season, and the Byrd players were praised for their performance. The Fair Park team, while defeated, showed promise for the future. The game was a great success for the Byrd team, and the players were proud of their achievement. The game was a great example of the spirit of the game, and the Byrd players were a source of pride for their school. TENNIS

For the first time in the history of the sport, the American Tennis Association has won the championship of the world in the men's singles event.

All the top players in the world have been defeated by the American players, who copped four out of five first places.

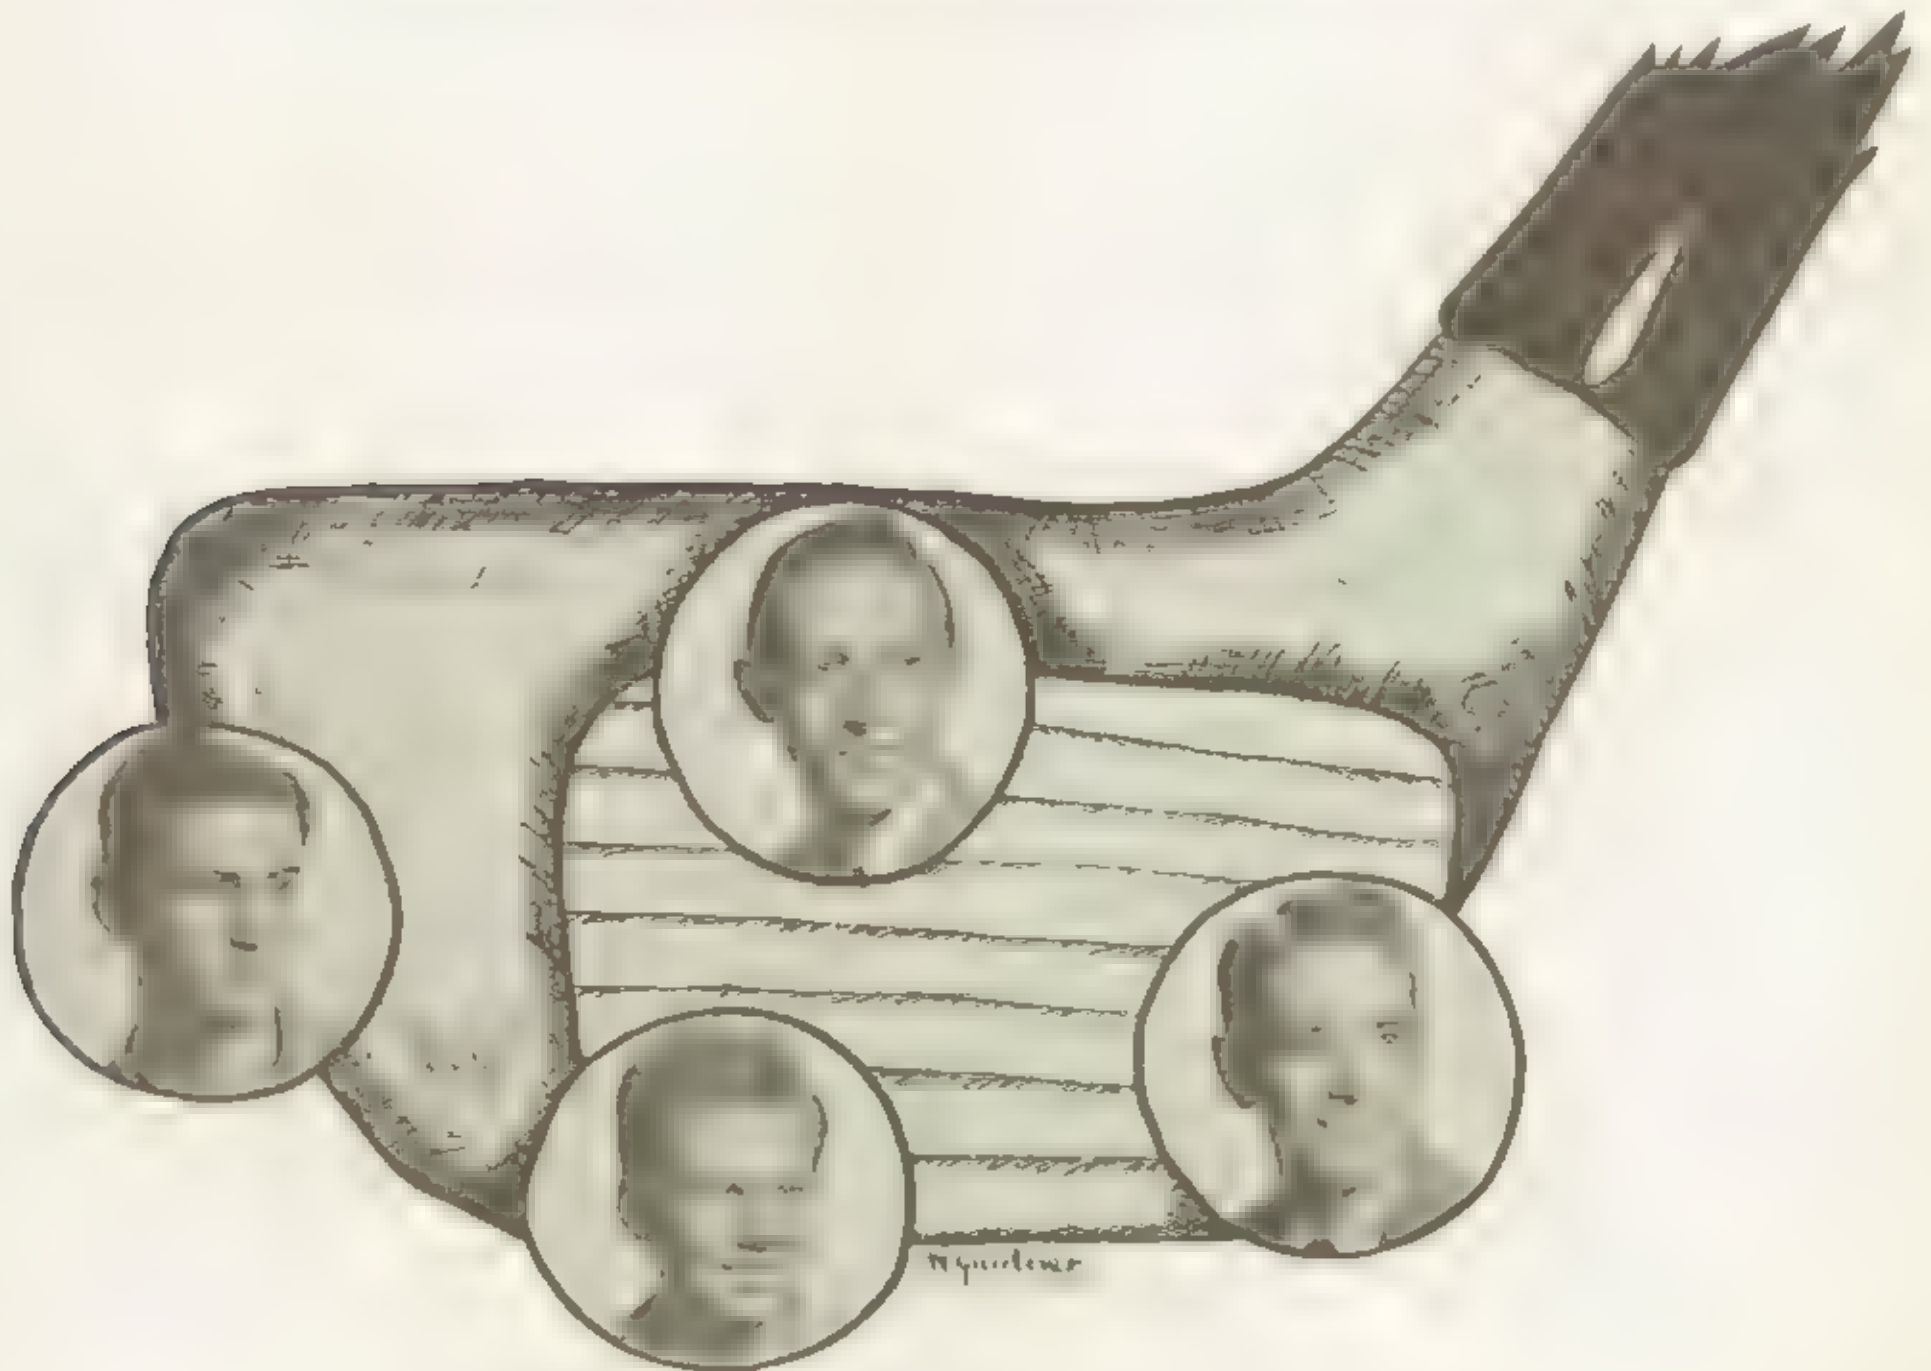

The American players were victorious in the men's singles, men's doubles, women's singles, and women's doubles events. In the men's singles event, the American player defeated the world champion in the last of a three-game set by a breath-taking score of 9-7.

NATIONAL HONOR

THE GROVER C. KOFFMAN CHAPTER is the name of the school's honor organization as planned by the Class of '48. The name was adopted because the members wanted to honor our Principal, Mr. Grover C. Koffman, betterment of their school. These students are chosen by the faculty and honored in a special assembly.

The 1949 project for the group is that of presenting outstanding men and women of achievement for assembly speakers. Dr. Bodeau, President of the University of Cairo, Egypt, was presented on February 10 in Byrd Auditorium.

It is the purpose of this organization to create an enthusiasm for "Scholarship, Leadership, Character, and Service."

RED CROSS COUNCIL

Junior Red Cross Pledge

We believe service for others.
 For our country, our community and our school.
 In health of mind and body to fit us for greater service.
 And for better human relations through cooperation.
 We have joined the American Junior Red Cross to achieve its aims by working together in service everywhere in our own and other lands.

The Junior Red Cross motto, "We Serve," has inspired the Byrd Council to do much work this year. The year's work began with the supper meeting at Prin Park and the forming of a parish-wide council. The annual faculty tea, making of the faculty directory, and the packing of sixty seven gift boxes for Christmas holidays. Also twelve writing boards for veterans' direction and two and two hundred dollars was sent to the National to send a d

This year the Girls Debate Club has had the largest members up in the club's history. Approximately sixty girls have taken advantage of the club's purpose to promote and develop all forms of public speaking. Meetings are held weekly with programs consisting of panel discussions, book reports, extemporaneous speaking, radio programs, parliamentary law drills, poetry, declamations, and debates.

Many entertaining and interesting programs have been conducted by the officers and members with the helpful guidance of their sponsor, Mrs. Jessica Goodwin.

At the close of each debating season a banquet is always held which is the most outstanding event of the year. At this time the officers for the following year are elected, the outstanding members of the year are presented, and the president gives a memorable farewell address. The banquet closes the season's debate work.

THE LIBRARY CLUB

Organized in January of 1948, the Library Club is relatively new at Byrd. The objectives of the club are to improve library service within the school, to stimulate reading interests, and to know each other in a social way. Membership is limited to the personnel of the student library staff. The club is sponsored by Miss Mildred Mobley.

The library staff gave a program tea for the faculty of Byrd during Book Week, which was in November. The library endeavors to serve the students and faculty to the best of its ability, and the Library Club works toward that objective.

OFFICERS AND SPONSORS CLUB

The Officers and Sponsors Club was organized for the purpose of working for the interests and betterment of the R.O.T.C. The club meets the first and third Tuesdays of each month.

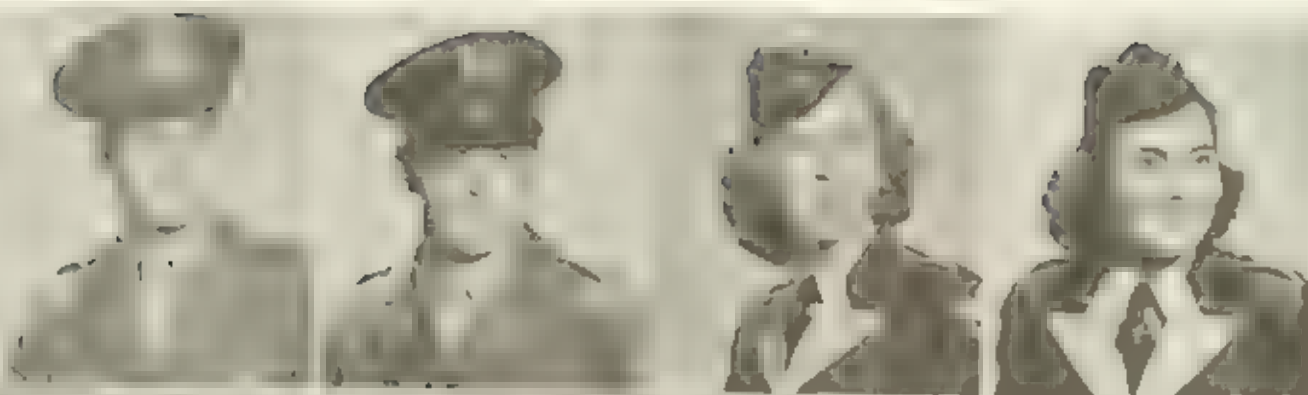

The club has been very active in sponsoring the R.O.T.C. and has taken part in many activities. A big Christmas party was given at the R.O.T.C. building with a Christmas dinner and a Christmas parade by the sponsors.

The Officers and Sponsors also took part in an "arch of staves" at the wedding of Sgt. Robert C. Tate and Miss Marlene B. Thurmond.

Any girl who is interested in various sports and recreational activities is entitled to become a member of the Girls Sports Club. The purpose of this club is to promote sportsmanship, wholesome recreation. The Third Annual Pay Day, in which other schools in the city were invited to take part, was the most important project of the group this year. Awards were presented to the team having the most points after having participated in volleyball, softball, and the sack race. An award is given each year to an "outstanding girl" or is given to the senior who has best fulfilled the ideals of this club.

PREDICTIONS

Class of 1949

By Scott Foster

Gene Barry and Jane Barry: Will take a "Slow Boat to China" and will then be referred to as the "China Barrys."

Margie Daniel, Martha Ann Moore, Doris Ocker, and Alicia Smith: I hear that they are all going to dye their hair, but, of course, it's a top secret.

George Alleman: You know when you push a button to turn on the light? Well, George will be the little guy inside who pushes the other button out.

Martha Senter: Will always be able to play a little piano, and who knows? Maybe after some practice, she'll be able to play a big one.

John Carter, Anthony Wolfe, and Braxton Ratcliff: Will work over thousands of people; they'll be graveyard attendants.

Sue Pinson: Will have to stop drinking coffee as it is keeping her awake during classes.

Harvey Sayes, Donald Catalano, and David Johnston: Will be eye doctors in florist shops; they'll take care of the black-eyed susans.

Annie Lou Webb: Will always be a Southern Belle with a terrific drawling power.

Kaye Brock: Will be a candy bar manufacturer.

Bill Callahan: Will become famous as Inspector Callahan of Homicide.

Barbara Lee Miller, Bob Miller, Corrine Miller, Lona Miller, and Pat Miller: Will form a corporation and manufacture dog food containing calcium, potassium, uranium, penicillin, sodium ascedle salicylate, and vitamins A, B-1, B-2, C, D-1, D-2, D-3, D-782, and E-½.

Connie Entrikin: Will produce Crunchy Crunchy Toenail Corn Flakes, the cereal that does not snap, crackle, nor pop; it just lies there.

Barbara Ellis: For details on her future see Joe Bob Alexander.

Hazel Hall, Marie Hamel, Mary Ellen Hancox, Judy Hanner, and Helen Harris: I can see it now, "Hall, Hamel, Hanner, Harris, and Hancox, handy hospitable handlers of Hadacol and handsome healthy halibuts."

Al Dietz, Reber Dillard, and Robert Taliaferro: Will come up with the drink of the century

Paul Rogers: Will follow in the footsteps of his brother, Buck.

Louis Stern: Will organize a gang known as the "Stern Gang."

James Watson: Will be the person to whom some great detective will say, "Elementary, my dear."

Bille Jeanne Jones, Jean Moseley, Ellen Raymond, Dorothy Mae Smith, and Mary Katherine Evans: Will stage a sensational nationwide contest. All you have to do is send in a new automobile and they'll send you ten thousand coupons.

Carolyn Addison: Will invent an alarm clock with no alarm for people who like to sleep late.

Steve White, Johnny Weaver, John Valerius, Doris Susman, Althea Crouch, Jack Scoggins, and Mary Jo Curvin: Rich man, poor man, beggar man, thief, doctor, lawyer, Super Chief.

Jean McKinney: Will invent eye glasses containing no glass for people who see better without them, anyway.

Delton Harrison, Frank Pernici, Marion Shirah, Richard Hudsmith, and Terrell Davis:

These boys will become famous as members of the "Harrison Gang." When they're only fifteen they start swiping small change. When they're twenty they will start lifting wallets. When they are twenty-one they'll be picking up tanks and by the time they are twenty-two—I can see it now; the crowd cheering and yelling when into the middle of Yankee Stadium steps the Harrison mob saying, "Dis is a holdup; everybody reach fer da sky!"

Anita Dupree: A future female private eye; also ears, nose, and throat. (She puts everything into her work.)

Fielder Calhoun: Will invent a sardine can that can't be opened for people who don't like sardines.

Marie Tilleux, Lila Valentine, Mercer Wade, Ray Kightlinger, and Jen Lashley: All of these poor souls will be trapped in a forest fire; boy, will they make fuels of themselves!

Barbara Ann and Norma Jean Locke: Will always be bothered by people wondering which twin has the Toni.

Ann Hatcher: Must live in a suit case; yes, she will just have to get a grip on herself.

Robert Travis: Will be the tower of his family, a blooming idiot.

Betty Whitney, Faylene Weeks, Betty Goyne, and Ruth Harber: Will be lady barbers; ah yes, quite the cut-ups.

Ernestine Holt, Dorothy Jones, and Audrey Langer: Will be the writers of those three sentimental ballads, "Drop Dead," "Fail Fatally," and "You Should Live So Long."

Barbara Murphy: Will be the chief herring salter at Fulton's Fish Market.

Gloria Simpson, Joyce Sprague, Mary Coddington, and Bill Davis: Will work for a deodorant company, but remember, Mum's the word.

Anne Connaughton: Will produce a throat spray for frogs who get human beings in their throats.

Mary Touchstone, Margaret Sloane, and Joyce Rambin: Will move to Spain where they'll probably become si sick.

Harry Fox, Buckie Hooper, Dick Murray, and Roy Dean Owen: These fellas will all be prize fighters. The fact is they'll spend more time on the canvas than Whistler's Mother.

Rita Jo Kelly, and Martha McInay: Will work for the government and issue fishing licenses, although frankly, I've never seen a fish that had one.

Ann Hutchinson: Wants to be a psychiatrist.

Lenora Armstrong: Will get rich selling Updock. What's Updock? Updock is the soap containing helium. It doesn't sink, it doesn't float, it just hovers there above the tub.

Spevens Rosenblath, Bill Peacock, and Clifford Neilson: Will be doctors in a glass factory; they'll take care of the window pains.

Mary Ann Wall: Will manufacture and sell her own brand of paper, Wall paper, of course

Eleanor Franks: Will suffer a great deal at the hands of people who like to sit around a campfire and roast Franks.

Sue Richardson: Will have three children, Eeny, Meeny, and Miney. After that she won't want any Moe.

Patricia Givens, Rosemary Lewis, Billy Mitchell, and Mary Ponsell: Will raise chickens; a pretty fowl business, I'd say.

DeLane Smith, Gussie Goldfinger, Eunice Holland, and Bobby Knight: Will get in the sugar business and raise cane.

Forest Ford, Billy Harrington, Perry Hollembeak, Leland Langridge, Billy Pennington, and Marvin Lipson: Will move to the Ozark Mountains and make hay while the sun shines and moonshine when it doesn't.

Virginia Alexander: Will organize a band which will be known as "Alexander's Rag Time Band."

Betty Ann Hill: Will change her name from Betty Ann to Mole; then everybody will try to make a mountain out of her.

SHREVEPORT, LA.

John Robinson: Will be a band leader; the greatest since Jesse James.

Marie Andrews: Will be an actress and draw lines three blocks long in front of the theater, that is, until the cops take the chalk away from her.

Cecil Neilson: Will make millions with his replacement for handkerchiefs—a small fan attached to your head. All you have to do is just pull the switch and let the wind blow your nose.

M. K. Woolbert: Will swallow a hand grenade and continue to shoot off his big mouth.

Robert Barnett: Will be a doorman and answer the door—every time it asks a question.

Tommy Baumgardner: Will work in a blanket factory; he will be the undercover man.

Delilah Austin: Will store razor blades in the deep freeze and then clean up selling cold-cuts.

David Moore: Will have a job equal to his intelligence; he will work in a domino factory, making blanks.

Logan Damewood: Will be a dancing instructor; of course, he will have to learn to take it on the shin.

Claude DeBeaux: Will get a job sticking his right arm into a lion's mouth. Shortly afterwards he will change his name to "Lefty."

Tommy Bigner: Will serve time for taking apples off a peddler's cart (impersonation of an officer).

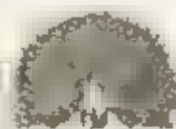

Mary Frances Collins: Will be a bathing beauty, a girl worth wading for.

Bettie Ann Bauguss: Will be a cross-eyed teacher and have difficulty controlling her pupils.

Joy Bickham: Will go down in history for her brilliant idea of how to keep skunks from smelling—cut off their noses.

Walter Bison: Will win the Nobel Prize for his great work of literature, "The Termite's Nightmare" or, "I Dreamt I Dwelled in Marble Halls."

PEACOCK

SHREVEPORT LOUISIANA

Wendla Bjorklund: Will write "her books" for churches tired of singing from hymn books.

Bobby Madden: Will build a factory and manufacture second-hand cars. He will be known as 'Mad Man Madden."

Jackie Rust: Will be a poet and go from bad to verse.

John R. Whyte: Will be a street musician in down-town Shreveport. He will either C sharp or B flat.

Albert Francis: Will be hired by the U. S. government to teach its governors and senators the correct way to play the guitar.

John Shaw: Will move to Rhode Island and turn Communist; yes, he'll be a regular Rhode Island Red.

Barbara Chapman and Beatrice Churchill: Taken from a paper of the future: "Churchill and Chapman, Chinese Checker Champs, challenged the Choosey Checker Champ of Chattanooga and Charleston; but the Charleston Checker Champ charged Churchill and Chapman of cheating. Chapman chunked a checker at the Chattanooga Champ's chin—etc."

Henry Clay Calhoun: Will sell fur coats for only $40. How? By elimination of the overhead, doing away with the middle man, and not advertising. Also, he'll swipe the coats.

Martha Burgess: Will perfect a spot remover that removes spots left over from other spot removers.

William Bruce: Will cross a homing pigeon with a woodpecker; not only will it deliver the message but it will also knock on the door.

Lewis Weinstein: Will manufacture square bathtubs. With these tubs it will be impossible for you to leave a ring.

Ray Weimer: Will be a labor leader in a fence factory; he will be in charge of the pickets.

Scott Foster: My lawyers (bless their little wooden heads) tell me that after this my only chance for survival is to plead insanity. But I'm not crazy, no. My father was crazy and my mother was crazy but not me; I'm a street car named "de har." Later on I may sell bubble gum, sort of a mouth-to-mouth salesman. However, the bubble gum business is liable to blow up in my face, so as a sideline I think I'll be the President or an admiral or general or maybe just a millionaire.

Note: Any resemblance between these predictions and the actual truth is not only purely coincidental but downright ridiculous.
